

BANDON DUNES

Round Lake Drive, Bandon Oregon

It began in 1999 with the opening of Bandon Dunes. Designed by Scotsman David McLay Kidd, the course is perched on a bluff high above the Pacific Ocean. Bandon Dunes unfolds along pristine native dunes where expansive ocean views are revealed on nearly every hole. The course is completely natural and routed through an environment of indigenous vegetation. Beyond breathtaking scenery lies the game of golf in its truest form. This is a thinker's course. Winds are ever-present, and the varying elements create a new experience each time you play.

BARTON CREEK – FAZIO FOOTHILLS

“Best described as a roller-coaster ride through the Texas Hill Country (without the screaming)”

(without the screaming)” by the Golf Channel’s Matt Ginella, the resort’s signature track and most dramatic course offers elevated tee boxes and a thrilling ride down to the fairways and greens, protected by cliffs, creeks and waterfalls.

With a challenging but fair layout that places a premium on shot-making, Foothills offers five different sets of tee boxes, rendering the course both rewarding to beginners and high handicappers, yet challenging to avid golfers. The course even played host to the Champions Tour Legends of Golf tournament from 1990-1994.

At 7,125 yards, long, accurate drives down the Hybrid TIFSport Bermuda fairways are a hallmark of Tom Fazio’s design. And with small, TiffEagle Bermuda greens, undulating aprons and grass bunkers, the Foothills course is a shot-maker’s paradise.

Arnold Palmer, the legendary golfer and course designer, is closely connected to the Bay Hill Club & Lodge.

Palmer first played the golf course in 1965 and then bought the facility in 1976. Bay Hill claims that Palmer still plays there often. The Championship Course at Bay Hill is a challenging course that is still suitable for players of all abilities. The golf course is straightforward with no hidden shots. There is also extensive mounding and bunkering throughout the course. Beautiful lakes are situated throughout the course adding some scenery and creating water hazards that come into play on a few holes.

Sweeps along the shores of a chain of lakes. A challenging test for all players. A relatively flat course winding between a series of ponds.

The tees on the PGA National are named after greats of the sport. From the blue tees, or the 'James Braid' tees, the course is an impressive 6449 meters long and with water coming into play on almost half of the holes, it is a tough test for golfers of all abilities. Most people that visit the course state that your score depends so much on the hazards with the water hazards being supported by some fearsome bunkers.

BELFRY

WISHAW , ENGLAND

The Belfry Club is the current home of the PGA in the UK and there are three golf courses at the club. The PGA selected what is now known as The Belfry for their new HQ after being advised by the designers of The Brabazon Course, Peter Alliss and Dave Thomas, that there was an old hotel for sale near Birmingham, and along with the hotel, came the huge amount of land required to create a golf course. Often overshadowed by the Brabazon course, which has been the host of Ryder Cups, at the same venue - the PGA National perhaps doesn't get the respect that it undeniably deserves. The course became the first in the Europe to use the PGA brand in its name when it opened in 1997. The PGA National was designed by renowned Welsh golf architect and former professional, Dave Thomas. The PGA National certainly had a tough reputation to live up to, especially with the success of the two previous courses that had been opened at The Belfry and it offers a challenging and exciting environment even for the most professional of golfers. The course has a real American feel to it, as you might expect from a course that carries the PGA name; in recent years, four lakes have been built in order to create a sterner test as well as further separation between fairways - this has been done with tournaments in mind for the spectators.

Bethpage Black

Farmingdale, NY

“Every serious golfer should test their skills, and what better place to do it than the Black?”

The Black Course is a difficult and challenging course that should be played only by low-handicap golfers. The course is for walkers only and its slope rating is one of the highest in the northeast. Anyone who has played will tell you it is a true test of golf skill and physical endurance. This was one of the last courses designed by master golf course architect A.W. Tillinghast, and is said by many to be his finest work. The Black Course served as the site of the 102nd U.S. Open Championship in 2002, and again at the 109th U.S. Open in 2009. The Barclays is scheduled to be played here in 2012, adding another major event to the list played at Bethpage. The narrow fairways, high roughs, well placed bunkers and small greens help to make this an extremely difficult course. It regularly ranks among the best courses in the country. Golfweek rated it the #1 best municipal course for 09-10, and again in 10-11, and it made their list of the top 100 classic American golf courses. It also made the Golf Digest's top 100 American public and private course list in 2005, and was number 7 on their Top 100 American Public Courses. Golf Magazine included it on their Top 100 Courses in the World, and ranked it 10th in the Top Courses Since 1959.

has more the character of a stadium course. Mounding surrounds the fairways and greens providing excellent viewing for spectators. # Bighorn – Mountains Course

Palm Desert, California

This 6,888 yard, par 72 desert course was designed by Arthur Hill. It was the first of the courses in the BigHorn Development in Palm Desert, California. Set at the foot of the Santa Rosa Mountains, the course has established itself as one of the most challenging and picturesque in the area. The first six holes snake through winding ravines and climb more than 1,000 feet. At the signature 6th, the route drops quickly back into the Coachella Valley. The view is impressive indeed, but the hole offers no allowance for strategic play. The only shot from the tee is to lay up in the middle short of the steep cliff. At that point the hole becomes another downhill 3-par. The 7th is a better hole which requires an accurate drive and a tricky uphill approach over a steep knoll. From there the route gradually descends through desert wash into rolling hills and man-made lakes. The natural rock formations and jagged terrain dotted with Saguaro cactus and other desert fauna contrast sharply with the velvety green carpet of the grass fairways and greens. This is a course of strongly bold and delicately fragile beauty, but the golfer must beware. The raw desert is out of bounds and surrounds almost every hole. Errant shots are severely penalized. The course hosted the annual Skins competition in late fall for the years 1992 - 94.

Cabo del Sol – The Ocean Course

CABO SAN LUCAS

The Ocean Course is described by course designer Jack Nicklaus as "the best golf property I've ever seen." This 18-hole, award-winning course is one of the few courses in the world that offers dramatic views of mountain, desert and sea.

Located at the tip of the Baja peninsula along the 20-mile Corridor between Cabo San Lucas and San Jose del Cabo, The Ocean Course is the centerpiece of the 1,800-acre residential resort community of Cabo del Sol.

Nicklaus' second Signature course in Mexico, The Ocean Course capitalizes on the beauty and landscape of Los Cabos, stretching for more than a mile across some of the most breathtaking and awe-inspiring terrain in the Western Hemisphere. The Ocean Course is poised against a magnificent backdrop that contrasts the emerald green turf with the brilliant blue of the Sea of Cortez. A dramatic layout places seven holes along the coastline of craggy rock outcroppings ascending from golden, sun-washed shores.

Praised by Nicklaus for having the "three finest holes in golf," The Ocean Course is framed by natural desert landscape, with giant cardon cacti towering over perfectly manicured greens and tees. On the signature 17th hole, golfers must tee off from a cliff top and carry their ball over a sandy cove to a green surrounded by rock outcroppings from the Sea of Cortez. The par-four 18th hole doglegs from left to right and follows the curve of the shoreline to a large oceanside green.

"AMERICA'S 100
GREATEST PUBLIC
GOLF COURSES"
-GOLF DIGEST

Known as the "Patriarch of Public Golf," Joe Jemsek always aspired to provide a country club experience and amenities to all golfers. Even with three highly successful golf courses, Joe was still concerned that he didn't have a course to better the finest country clubs in the United States. Once again Joe partnered with famed golf architect team of Dick Wilson (Bay Hill, Cog Hill No.3, Doral-Blue Course, Laurel Valley) and Joe Lee (Bent Tree, Palm Beach National, La Costa, Walt Disney World Courses) to create Joe's vision of a fourth course, one that would test the world's greatest golfers. Wilson/Lee complied and created what many consider to be each architect's best work. Sadly, Wilson passed before the course opened to universal praise.

The collaboration was so successful that No. 4 has remained nationally ranked since its opening in 1964. At that time, Course No. 4 was given the nickname "DUBSDREAD." The nickname "DUBSDREAD" is derived from the idea that a "dub" or poor golfer should beware and served as a warning of the challenges forthcoming. True to its name, this natural-style championship course places a high demand on shot-making ability by providing tight landing areas combined with heavily bunkered, large undulating greens.

Over the years, DUBSDREAD has challenged professionals and amateurs alike while hosting numerous PGA Tour and USGA tournaments.

Covered Bridge Golf Club

Sellersburg, Indiana

Covered Bridge Golf Club is a Fuzzy Zoeller/Clyde Johnston designed 18-hole course, nestled on a gently rolling plain at the foot of Southern Indiana's famous Floyds Knobs. Each hole has been laid out to emphasize the natural beauty of the landscape and panorama. The par 72 circuit features five lakes, a meandering creek and is pleasantly forested. The greens are gently contoured and the bunker placement is challenging, but not punishing. Paved cart paths connect all tees and carts can be driven anywhere on the course's Zoysia grass fairways. Each hole offers a choice of five separate tees matching the course to the ability level of any player.

Bermuda Triangle, Florida Fantasy Course

Devil's Island — Rising from the crystal waters of the Bermuda Triangle, this tortuously beautiful fantasy course is the most challenging and rewarding in the Links portfolio.

From the unforgiving tee shot skirting Bentwood Beach on hole number three to the signature fourteenth, an impossibly small island green lurking in the lagoon of lost score cards, these eighteen holes will reward the accurate golfer lavishly and force the rest to walk the plank!

Have you ever wished you could break par at Devil's Island? Well this could be your chance. I long wondered how to play Devil's Island strategically. I tried from being aggressive to playing safe. Took notes on clubbing and aims, then played it again.

I was amazed at how many birdie opportunities you can get. The trick is to get on the greens on regulation. This may seem not easy but if you know where to place the ball, it is possible to make birdies on most of the holes. I'm not saying you can birdie the holes with this but at least you can attempt putts for birdies instead or pars. You still have to putt you know. I can emphasize the importance of the putter well enough on this course. Putting makes the birdies and eagles so keep that metal hot!

DORADO BEACH – East Course

Dorado, Puerto Rico

Rated #1 Golf Course in Puerto Rico by Golf Digest

Robert Trent Jones Jr.'s restoration of the historic East Course to the original vision put forth by his father brings this classic seaside course into the 21st century with a subtle rebirth as a modern masterpiece.

Original panoramic site lines to the ocean have been restored on 15 of 18 holes. Native sand harvested from surrounding beaches highlights the contoured bunker complexes. New ultra-dwarf Champion Bermuda greens support double-digit speeds with a number of hole locations on every green. A course layout that now stretches more than 7,200 yards, Dorado Beach East is as formidable from the championship tee as it is forgiving from the forward tee.

EMERALD DUNES

WEST PALM BEACH, FLORIDA

The Emerald Dunes golf course, originally designed by Tom Fazio and first unveiled in 1990, was greeted with unanimous acclaim, quickly climbing onto the numerous lists of the best courses in the state and nation. But now, more than two decades later, Emerald Dunes has been reinvented and refined thanks to a multi-million-dollar investment personally supervised by Fazio.

Every hole has been enhanced, and a vast amount of foliage has been planted along the perimeter of the property thus ensuring privacy and seclusion. With more than 100 bunkers and 60 acres of lakes, the 18-hole course consists of five sets of tees with a total yardage ranging from just under 5,200 to over 7,100 yards, with a par of 72.

In addition to 18 holes of championship golf, the course embraces the natural beauty of the land while enriching it with impeccable landscaping.

Fazio utilized the natural dunes to create signature mounding and flash-faced bunkers adorned with native ornamental grasses. And unlike the typical, hard, concrete paths commonly utilized, the paths at Emerald Dunes consist of crushed native coquina shells complemented with old-world hand-set pavers.

The end result is an aesthetically breathtaking, versatile, and stimulating experience for players of all levels.

Frankfurter Golf Club

Frankfurter – South West Germany

The original course here at Frankfurter Golf Club was built way back in 1913, but the present course is largely the work of Harry S. Colt's team sixteen years later. Since then there has been only a single round of renovations, which were carried out in 2002 by German designer Kurt Rosknecht, who concentrated on improving the bunkers and on making the course a bit longer without doing violence to the holes. For its first few decades, the Frankfurter enjoyed a peaceful, woodland setting, and Colt kept the fairways correspondingly spacious. Now, however, players must endure the constant jumbo jet traffic to the nearby Frankfurt Airport. Nevertheless, the course continued to attract tournament play into the 1980s, when the German Open frequently came there, but Mark McNulty's 1987 score of 25 under par made clear the need to toughen things up before any more championships could be held at Frankfurter.

Gleneagles – The Centenary Course

Auchterarder Perthshire Scotland

The PGA® Centenary Course, created by Jack Nicklaus, is a modern classic.

Even for a champion and acclaimed golf architect like Nicklaus, The PGA Centenary Course was a challenge. It had to be a truly great golf course, set as it is in the heart of Scotland, the country that gave the world golf. Thankfully Nicklaus described the course as "the finest parcel of land in the world I have ever been given to work with".

It had to be unique in its challenge, a golf course in the modern design ethos that at its fullest stretch tests the greatest players, while, in the immortal phrase of Bobby Jones, "offering problems a man may attempt according to his ability... never hopeless for the lesser player nor failing to concern and interest the expert".

The tees are graded at each hole in five stages, including a challenging 6,815 yards from the white markers down to 5,322 from the red. Fittingly, The PGA Centenary Course begins by playing southeast towards the glen, sweeping up the Ochil Hills to the summit of the pass below Ben Shee which joins it to Glendevon. A feature of The PGA Centenary Course is the feast of views of the spectacular countryside in which Gleneagles is set. Putting on the two-tier second green, you are distracted by the lush panorama of the rich Perthshire straths. As you move westwards over the next few holes, the rugged Grampians come into view on the right, then distantly purple ahead, Ben Vorlich and the mountains above the Trossachs.

Hapuna Golf Course

Kohala Coast, Hawaii

Hapuna Golf Course stretches along the beautiful Kohala coastline before rising to over 700 feet above sea level. The snow-topped Mauna Kea volcano serves as a dramatic backdrop and there are seemingly endless views of the Pacific. Arnold Palmer and Ed Seay collaborated to create a visually stunning links course that utilizes the natural contours of the landscape and silky fescue grasses. The design team has received praise for not only the challenge of the design but also for how seamlessly it blends into the existing environment. Palmer incorporated several risk-reward opportunities, especially with the par 5s, the 14th is a good example. There are many ways to play this hole, which features a large ravine on the right and a wide, but shallow green. Long hitters can reach the green in two but short hitters prefer two shots and a par 3.

Sea Pines Plantation on Hilton Island, Beaufort County, South Carolina

Harbour Town Golf Links is a public golf course located in Sea Pines Plantation on Hilton Head Island in Beaufort County, South Carolina. Harbour Town Golf Links hosts the RBC Heritage, a PGA Tour event held in mid-April, usually the week after The Masters. Harbour Town Golf Links is ranked high among golf courses in America by Golf Digest and Golf Magazine. The course consists of narrow fairways, overhanging oaks, pines, palmettos, and dark lagoons. Harbour Town Golf Links along with the Ocean Course and Heron Point, make up the Sea Pines Resort.

This distinguished golf course places a premium on finesse, imagination and shot-making, rather than strength, making it a perennial favorite among PGA TOUR players. Put your game to the ultimate test - against a collection of par threes ranked among the world's finest and a par-4 18th hole considered one of the most feared in all of golf, particularly when the wind is blowing off Calibogue Sound. The crowning achievement of famed designer Pete Dye, this celebrated PGA TOUR golf course is a true test of the game of golf.

The tee boxes, fairways and rough have been replaced with Celebration Bermuda grass, the most scientifically advanced surface used on warm season courses. The greens were re-grassed with Tif-Eagle Bermuda, the same turf used on the putting surfaces since 2001. A new irrigation system was also installed with the most advanced technology in water management and control.

Holtsmark GK

Robert Trent Jones

Sylling, Norway

RTJ II crafted tightly mowed fairway collection areas near the green surrounds at Holtsmark to provide opportunities for creative short-game artistry. Just as the golf course itself is open to everyone, players can be equally democratic in deciding between a putter, eight-iron, sand wedge, or three wood for some of the tricky pitches and chips. The greens themselves are a throwback to the classic putting surfaces of the 1920s. We designed them with many compartments, elevation changes, and disappearing transitions, making reading the greens as challenging as reaching some of them.

Just south of Oslo, Norway, Holtsmark Golf Club stands as one of this Scandinavian nation's first truly public golf courses. Robert Trent Jones II designed a challenging and dramatic layout that some are describing as "The Prince Course of Norway" because the golf holes play along ridgelines and adjacent to or across a series of steep ravines-much as they do at our world-renowned Prince Course in Hawaii.

The well-wooded site-with views of distant mountains-required selective clearing to frame the holes. Drainage concerns also presented challenges; the site was characterized by heavy clay soil and well-defined drainage corridors. We met these challenges-and created the strategy and drama of the course-by routing holes along the ridge tops. We also augmented the soil with a sandy mixture and planted a hardy rye/bluegrass mix that works well in this northern climate.

The course is further characterized by five very strong, dramatic par threes. Number five, for example, plays to a green perched atop a peninsula; the front, right, and back sides fall off into deep ravines. The huge putting surface is reachable by a bump-and-run shot that avoids a well-placed bunker, or via an aerial attack. In honor of Robert Trent Jones, Sr., we devised an extra, far-back "runway" tee here that requires a tee-shot upwards of 260 yards.

INNISBROOK – COPPERHEAD

TAMPA, FLORIDA

A favorite among PGA TOUR professionals, our Copperhead Course is the most recognizable of Innisbrook’s four Tampa, Florida courses. After all, it plays host to the world’s greatest golfers during the PGA TOUR’s annual visit to the resort for the Valspar Championship Presented by BB&T. Tree-lined fairways and rolling terrain define the course – a lengthy challenge for even the longest hitters at more than 7,200 yards. Striking in beauty and challenge, the surrounding lakes and ponds are home to abundant wildlife, including fox squirrels, bald eagles, alligators, blue herons, and many other types of water fowl. With the fairways and greens mostly free of residences, Copperhead provides the opportunity to enjoy golf the way nature intended.

Located on the popular island of Maui, Kapalua Golf invites you to discover one of the most majestic golf courses in the world - the Kapalua Bay Course. The Bay Course has hosted over 20 professional tournaments - the most of any neighbor island course - and features the only hole to play over the ocean on Maui. The Bay Course opened in 1975 and in that time, has hosted over 20 major professional tournaments - the most of any neighbor island course in the state of Hawaii. From the first live prime-time televised event in golf at the 1983 Kapalua International to the Kapalua LPGA classic some 25 years later, The Bay Course has consistently faced the best players in golf and withstood the test of time and technology.

Great champions and stories have emerged here, such as Greg Norman's first win on America soil, Ian Woosnam and David Llwellyn's thrilling victory for Wales in the World Cup of Golf and Morgan Pressel's nail-biting win at the Kapalua LPGA classic. Two of the most popular PGA players ever, Fred Couples and Davis Love III, have each earned victories here - twice.

The Bay Course is a championship course that is as challenging as it is beautiful. Known for its

Kiawah Island – Ocean Course

Kiawah Island, South Carolina

The Kiawah Island Golf Resort is a resort in Kiawah Island, South Carolina, southwest of Charleston. It opened in May 1976 and has five golf courses, most notably the Ocean Course, added in 1991.

The Ocean Course has hosted major golf tournaments including the Ryder Cup in 1991, the World Cup in 1997 and 2003, and the PGA Championship in 2012. It also hosted the PGA Club Professional Championship in 2005 and the Senior PGA Championship in 2007. It will also host the PGA Championship in 2021

The Ocean Course is the most famous course at Kiawah Island, opened in 1991, it was designed by Pete and Alice Dye. The course was designed so that players have a view of the shoreline of the Atlantic Ocean but also to expose golfers to the often-strong winds in the area. The Ocean Course has been consistently named as one of the best courses in the world by several publications such as Golf Digest and Golf Magazine as well as being named a "Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary" by Audubon International. As of 2010[update], the Ocean Course was rated 25th in Golf Digest's 100 Greatest Golf Courses in America.

The Ocean Course is a par 72 course and from the championship tees, it stretches to 7,873 yards (7,199 m) with a slope rating of 153 and a course rating of 79.7, the highest in the country, according to the United States Golf Association. Because of its large slopes, numerous bunkers, and challenging Bermuda grass, it was named the toughest course in America in 2010 by Golf Digest.

The Ocean Course was featured in the 2000 film The Legend of Bagger Vance. In October 2008, the Ocean Course became the first course to be available to play in the online video game that was developed by World Golf Tour. Helicopters equipped with cameras and GPS tracking devices were used to photograph and record the entire course to produce a geographically accurate simulation.

King and Bear

St. Augustine , Florida

This legendary King and Bear golf course in St. Augustine, Florida is a breathtaking golf experience. This course, co-designed by Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer is set among pristine lakes, Loblolly pines, and has attracted golfers from around the world. The stately oak trees provide the character and charm players have come to expect from courses in northern Florida, with the design elements players have come to expect from both the Nicklaus and Palmer. This is the only course that was collaborated on by Hall of Fame players, and legendary course architects, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer. Arnold Palmer selected number 15 as one of his “Dream 18,” holes in Sports Illustrated. It’s not surprise that Palmer and Nicklaus, known for prodigious length, made King and Bear a driver friendly course. Both Palmer and Nicklaus wanted to highlight the natural beauty of northern Florida; the back 9 prominently features ancient live oaks, indigenous coquina rock, and numerous water features. The course will challenge and intrigue golfers of any and all skill levels. It features wide fairways, courtesy of Nicklaus, and fast greens from Palmer.

LOSBY GOLF COUNTRY CLUB

Finstadjordet, Norway

Losby has two separate courses, Østmork the 18 hole championship course and Vestmork the 9 hole course, both designed by the renowned golf course architect, Peter Nordwall.

The championship course is perfectly integrated alongside the meandering path of the Losby River that runs through the valley. This combined with the size and quality of the greens makes Østmork probably the finest in Norway. Vestmork compliments the championship course perfectly, and with its compact and challenging design is a worthy alternative for those who wish a ‘quick nine holes’.

The green keeping staff has the experience, knowledge and professionalism to hold the entire facility in first class shape throughout the year.

MAUNA KEA GOLF COURSE

Waimea, Hawaii

"Mr. Rockefeller, if you allow me to build a golf course here, this'll be the most beautiful hole in the world." Robert Trent Jones, Sr., at the 3rd hole site.

The stunningly beautiful and award-winning Mauna Kea Golf Course, created in 1964 by Robert Trent Jones, Sr. on a previously barren black lava field, remains an all-time favorite in beauty and design. The elevated, undulating greens and prevailing coastal winds demand accuracy. The challenging Big Island course offers stellar coastal views as it tumbles across seaside cliffs. Some holes play right alongside the ocean – or across it.

Mauna Kea Golf Course ushers in a new age of golf with innovative new Golfboards, a fun way to carve through a round of golf in record time and surf the earth. Available for both golfers and non-golfers ages 16 and up. New in 2016 - all carts now come with GPS to offer golfers a little extra help when determining yardages and distances to the hole.

Our golf facilities were designed by architect John Hara Associates Inc. and help make your Mauna Kea golf experience even more memorable. The Pro Shop offers state-of-the-art golf equipment, the latest designer attire and accessories, logo gifts and golf items. You can also drop off your golf shoes for Buzzy to clean, sign up for lessons or relax and talk golf with our attentive staff.

And, golfers who seek a mid-round oasis will love the tasteful look and tasty cuisine of the new "Number 3" clubhouse restaurant-almost good enough to guarantee a lower score on the course's back nine. Stop by after golf to relax in casual atmosphere, along with pupus and a cold one from the tap, or a signature Mauna Kea cocktail to toast your hole-in-one.

There are several elevation changes on this course, highlighted by holes designed to play uphill, away from the ocean.

Mauna Lani - Kohala Coast, Hawaii

What to Expect: Mauna Lani Resort is host to both the visually impressive South course and the more challenging North course. The South course is carved through the lava fields that are so prevalent on the Kona side of Hawaii's Big Island with a couple of trips to the coastline highlighted by the signature 15th hole. The fairways throughout the course are generous in width which is a welcome feature considering shots that leave the fairway will either be praying for a lucky kick out of the lava rock or will find its way into a neighboring residence. Distances between greens and tees in certain spots makes walking the course an impractical option however the terrain is subtle enough that walking wouldn't be very strenuous. The course is much more playable for the average golfer than Mauna Kea while still providing some ocean eye candy that every golfer in Hawaii wants to enjoy. The course conditions are quite good though the heavy amount of play keeps the course from being elite in that category. The highlight of the course is the quality of one-shotters found throughout the property with two routed on the ocean and another playing over water towards the Pacific.

NEW SOUTH WALES GOLF COURSE

La Perouse NSW, Australia

During his whirlwind 1926 Australian tour, legendary designer Dr Alister MacKenzie visited La Perouse and was enthused about the potential for building a great golf course. Clearly moved by the surroundings he declared that New South Wales would ‘present more spectacular views than any other golf course in the world, with the possible exception of Cypress Point.’ Today golfers continue to make the pilgrimage to this sacred site to tackle a course built by nature, framed by the Pacific Ocean and shaped by the greatest hand of all.

NSW is a wonderful combination of undulating fairways, beautiful scenic vistas and a spectacular Clubhouse which is a magnificent combination of traditional architecture and five star comfort. Shortly after its 1928 opening, an edition of ‘Golf in Australia’ magazine described New South Wales as needing ‘only the improving hand of time to become the acme of perfection’. The hand of time has indeed improved this masterpiece and though it is unlikely any course is the absolute ‘acme of perfection’, New South Wales Golf Club gets about as close as any in Australia. The course and club are steeped in history. It is a well known historical fact that Captain Cook and his crew found their first drinking water in a natural spring below where the 18th tee is located today.

In short, this is more than just a golf course – it is an unforgettable experience of nature. To play golf at NSW Golf Club is to play golf how the game was intended to be played – at the complete mercy of Mother Nature and the golfer’s ability.

Few venues in the world of golf have the championship tradition of Oakmont.

Introduced in 1903 by designer Henry Fownes, Oakmont Country Club has hosted more combined USGA and PGA championships than any other course in the U.S., including eight United States Opens, five U.S.

Amateurs, three PGA Championships, and two U.S. Women's Opens.

Oakmont remains perhaps the most difficult course in North America, with 210 deep bunkers (personified by the Church Pews), hard and slick greens that slope away from the player, and tight fairways requiring the utmost precision. Oakmont was the site of "the greatest round of the 20th century": Johnny Miller's final round 63 at the 1973 U.S. Open.

Golf Digest ranks Oakmont #5 in its most recent version of America's Top 100 courses.

Panther Lake

Winter Garden, Florida

Panther Lake is everything you could want in a golf course. Playing over rolling meadows, through native pines, around and over wetlands, lakes, and up and down elevation changes of up to 60 feet, it is first and foremost a visual delight, reminding you that natural beauty is one of the main reasons you play golf and a major factor in deciding which course to play. Panther Lake offers some of the best examples of natural beauty that Orlando area golf courses have to offer. One of the highlights is that there is no development on or around the course” a Florida golf course with no homes! You will likely encounter many native species of birds and wildlife during your round, which will be enjoyed in the most tranquil of settings. Every hole on Panther Lake is unique and requires something different from your shot making repertoire. This is another feature that makes this Central Florida golf course so special; when you finish your round, you will likely be able to recall each hole very vividly as they are all very different in appearance as well as appealing in design to the eye. The variety in design is evident in the way no two holes play alike.

Pinehurst

No. 2

Pinehurst, North Carolina

“I’ve always thought Pinehurst No. 2 to be my favorite golf course from a design standpoint. I’ve enjoyed going out on No. 2 and seeing a totally tree-lined golf course without a tree coming into play.”

- JACK NICKLAUS

Pinehurst No. 2, the centerpiece of Pinehurst Resort, remains one of the world’s most celebrated golf courses. It has served as the site of more single golf championships than any course in America and hosted back-to-back U.S. Open and U.S. Women’s Open Championships for the first time in 2014. The U.S. Open will return in 2024.

Opened in 1907, No. 2 was designed by Donald Ross, who called it “the fairest test of championship golf I have ever designed.” Ross was associated with the course for nearly a half-century, improving the course continually until his death in 1948. No. 2 is best known for its crowned, undulating greens, which are some of the most complex and widely hailed in the world. Ross believed in providing golfers with strategic choices, and Pinehurst No. 2 was intended to epitomize that philosophy.

No. 8

Pinehurst, North Carolina

“Fun golf is Pinehurst. Fun golf is playing links golf. Fun golf is learning to how to maneuver the ball on the ground and give yourself options. One of the hardest up-and-downs is when you have options.”
- TIGER WOODS

Building a new course grand enough to celebrate Pinehurst’s first 100 years might intimidate some architects, but Tom Fazio took on the assignment with gusto. No. 8 – which opened in 1996 – combines classic Donald Ross concepts with the whimsical snarls that have become Fazio’s calling card.

Fazio took full advantage of the 420 acres of rolling terrain and natural wetlands to fashion a course that’s visually enthralling and challenging yet fun to play; it’s a nod to No. 2, but hardly a replication. Many feel No. 8 synthesizes all the elements of the Pinehurst golf experience into one layout.

This championship track has twice been home to the PGA Club Pro Championship. Just a short drive from the main club, the Pinehurst spirit is quite alive at No. 8, which will serve as the companion course for the 2019 Men’s U.S. Amateur Championship.

HUTCHINSON, KANSAS

Not far from Hutchinson, Prairie Dunes Country Club offers terrific views and challenging play for golfers at every skill level. Well-groomed fairways and greens keep Prairie Dunes Country Club difficult yet friendly, and the staff can offer tips and tricks for playing your best round. Prairie Dunes Country Club is a terrific choice for your regular rounds of golf or a new destination for you and friends when visiting Hutchinson. Prairie Dunes was the top nine-hole course in America for 20 years. By the time the club found funds to expand it to 18, original architect Perry Maxwell had passed away, but his son Press was able to add nine more holes seamlessly, putting three on the front nine and six on the back. He also replicated his father's great greens. Prairie Dunes reflects all that is Kansas: sand dunes, prairie grasses, yucca plants, cottonwoods and constant wind.

Panelist comments:

"The greens and the green contours make this course special. Some of the best green complexes I've ever seen. Most impressive was, unlike many courses with severe greens, most of the green square footage is useable for hole locations."

"It's almost like this land was meant to have a golf course on it. Sandy soil which leads to great conditioning and drainage, the wind, all sorts of different sightlines and directional changes, outstanding natural bunkering that almost looks ripped out of the terrain in spots" the dramatic coastline, the courses wind their way through magnificent stands of trees and rolling landscape and views that will astonish you with their unforgettable beauty.

Even if you don't play golf, it would be more than worth your while to rent some clubs and shoes and no doubt have the time of your life. But do bring a camera, because you could use up an entire memory chip or video taking shots all over the amazing course.

It's been said that even if it's raining, golfers will still go out on the course and if they lose a ball, they don't really care. The experience of playing here is so fantastic and memorable, what's a drop of rain or two or some lost balls?

Robert Trent Jones G.T. – (Grand National) Links

Auburn/Opelika, Alabama

Grand National is located at the easterly tip of the Robert Trent Jones Trail near the college football town of Auburn. The complex includes two full length courses (Links and Lake) as well as a short course. Generally regarded as the superior track at Grand National, the Links course doesn't feel like a firm and fast links course at all and instead is carved through trees with water and marsh areas coming into play and requiring an aerial game to maneuver the bunkers and trouble. The holes rarely run parallel to each other and leaving the relatively wide fairways offers little hope of saving par. The course conditions, views, and overall setting are excellent and deliver golfers the feeling of truly being away from it all which is such a welcome sensation. There are several holes with significant elevation changes, something you will experience right off the bat with the opening two holes, and the course is a stiff challenge. The Links course at Grand National is my only exposure to the RTJ Trail and if it is any indication of how good of golf is found on the rest of the trail then I'm ready for a two-week trip to the Yellowhammer State to experience the gamut.

ROYAL MELBOURNE GOLF CLUB

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA

Royal Melbourne's Composite Course is continually rated in the top 10 golf courses in the world, an amalgamation of the work of two great golf course designers, Alister MacKenzie and Alex Russell. The Composite Course came into being in 1959 when Royal Melbourne was asked to hold the World Cup (known as the Canada Cup at that time).

Royal Melbourne's two courses are known as the 'West' and 'East' courses. It was decided to use 12 holes from the West Course and 6 holes from the East Course for the World Cup, and hence the Composite Course was born.

The result is a golf course of outstanding quality, with an intriguing mix of Scottish Links characteristics and Augusta National style beauty. The course also has the reputation for having possibly the fastest putting greens in the world. The course is also famous for its large and dramatically shaped bunkers.

The course is ranked amongst the best in the world by numerous international golf course ranking bodies and publications.

Sea Island Golf Club

Sea Island, Georgia

Sea Island’s Seaside course is a Tom Fazio re-design of the 1929 classic by famous golf course architects Harry S. Colt and Charles Alison. Golf great Bobby Jones described it as among the best nine holes he ever played. By tying the original Seaside with the old

Marshside course, Fazio, according to Davis Love III, transformed two nines from “18 holes that didn’t match into 18 matchless holes.”

Seaside is an ocean-side links course that combines its beautiful natural setting with a golf course that is both challenging and fun. The beautifully manicured fairways and greens are bordered by sweeping dunes mixed with native grasses, wildflowers, and bunkers. And the wind creates a different golf experience daily. Sea Island’s most dramatic layout, Seaside is routinely ranked among the top 100 courses in the United States. Along with the Plantation Course, it is the home of the PGA TOUR’s RSM Classic, a FedEx cup event hosted by Sea Island touring professional Davis Love III.

Peddle Beach, California

One of the most respected and revered courses in the world begins with one of the greatest opening stretches in golf: five spectacular sand-splashed holes that cruise up and down a sea of dunes while showcasing sublime oceanfront scenery and shots you've surely never seen.

But the defining characteristic of Spyglass Hill is how starkly the first five holes juxtapose the rest of the round. Incredible ocean views give way to the understated natural beauty of the Del Monte Forest, as the final 13 holes relentlessly examine your game with a litany of bunkers, ponds and uphill tests. Pine Valley-by-the-Sea meets Augusta National, as Sports Illustrated eloquently described it.

When the Robert Trent Jones, Sr., design hosted medal play during the 1999 U.S. Amateur, no player in the field was able to break 70, and the setup maxed out at a slope of 155. Bing Crosby famously bet that Jack Nicklaus wouldn't be able to break par at Spyglass Hill the year it opened in 1966. Nicklaus shot a 2-under 70 in his first round, but Spyglass Hill has been a demanding, yet fair test for pros and guests alike ever since.

STONE CANYON

Tempe, Arizona

Situated at the base of the picturesque Tortolita Mountains, Stone Canyon provides the most spectacular desert setting anywhere. With views of the majestic Santa Catalina Mountains everywhere you turn, golfers will be amazed by the breathtaking beauty. From the rock formations to the thousands of giant saguaros overlooking the lush, green fairways, tees and putting surfaces.

The golf course itself encompasses 18 uniquely designed golf holes, with teeing options ranging from 5,100 yards to over 7,300 yards. Each hole has a minimum of 5 tee pads making the course enjoyable for the beginner golfer, yet challenging for the accomplished player. The course provides ample landing zones off the tee along with multiple risk reward options throughout the layout. Undulating, bent grass greens and strategically placed bunkers, provide a fun challenge for all those who play. If 18 holes isn't enough, Stone Canyon's 19th hole, a 107 yard par 3, is perfect for settling your bets or practicing your short game! It's easy to see why Stone Canyon is consistently ranked among the best courses in the country.

GOLD CANYON, ARIZONA

Located in Gold Canyon, Arizona, Superstition Mountain Golf and Country Club offers spectacular golf in a truly dramatic old world setting. This prestigious private Club boasts two Nicklaus designed golf courses highlighted by jaw-dropping views, a spectacular clubhouse and a fully appointed Sports Club. All this, together with many indoor and outdoor recreational pursuits, serves as your invitation to enjoy a fulfilling and rich resort experience in some of Phoenix's prime real estate.

A links-style desert golf course, the Lost Gold Course maintains the Superstition Mountain reputation for playability and meticulous conditions.

Jack Nicklaus teamed with son Jack Jr. to design this desert golf course, which opened in 1999. The links-style course offers generous fairways, and it possesses greater shot value than the Prospector Course, due to slightly smaller greens and strategic bunker placements. This course is certainly one of the best golf courses Arizona can supply. The Lost Gold Course was the site of the 2002 Senior Slam, when Fuzzy Zoeller edged Don Pooley by one stroke to win the $300,000 top prize.

Valderrama Golf Club

Andalucia, Spain

The Valderrama Royal Club (Spanish: Real Club Valderrama) is one of the best known golf clubs in Europe. It is located in the resort of Sotogrande, San Roque in the Andalusia region of southern Spain, a few miles from Gibraltar, and has a single 18-hole course, along with a 9-hole par 3 course.

Valderrama was constructed in 1974 as "Sotogrande New," to the designs of leading American golf course architect Robert Trent Jones. Renamed "Las Aves" in 1981, it was acquired by Jaime Ortiz-Patiño in 1984. The golf course was redesigned and expanded by the original architect and became "Valderrama."

By 1999, Valderrama was rated the top course in mainland Europe by Golf World magazine. The practice ground was called the best in Europe by Nick Faldo.

The fourth hole, La Cascada, is the course's signature hole. It is a par 5 with a pond to the right of the two-tiered green. Before the 2016 Open de España, three national teams of four players tried to complete La Cascada in the fastest time. The French team of Raphaël Jacquelin, Alexander Lévy, Grégory Havret and Romain Wattel took four shots to complete the hole in 34.87 seconds, breaking the previous

Guinness world record by half.[1]

The club's course was the traditional host of the now defunct Volvo Masters, hosting the event from 1988 to 2008, with a five-year break when the event was moved to the Montecastillo Golf Club.
